

How can we best change men's attitudes and behaviours so that gender digital equality improves in Pakistan?

Education/learning

- Include acceptance of women's empowerment in curriculum
- Educate men to accept importance and contributions of women without any discrimination
- Revised curriculum focusing on respect for mothers and daughters

Providing opportunities

- Equal technical opportunities for men and women
- Gender discrimination is because women have lots on their plates – so need to provide focused/specialised opportunities for women

Technological issues

- Creating healthy interaction platforms for technical awareness
- Improvement of cyber security system

Working together

- Collaboration rather than segregation

Empowerment (definitions)

- Empowerment is unequivocal not equivocal
- Empowerment means rehabilitation – financial, social – cannot empower anyone without these

Parenting

- Sensitise parenting for informed learning (non-discriminatory)
- Educating men at home by their mothers and other relatives

Awareness and recognition

- Recognise that women's rights are human rights
- Tell people/awareness and character building at homes by parent and elders

Legislation

- Awareness and implementation of cyber laws
- Legislation making workplaces safer for women

Media

- Have positivity in the media about women and technology

Religious leaders

- Active role of religious leaders
- Educating people about respect for women and culture

The question is biased (two male tables)

- Question is biased
- Actions speak louder than words – women can prove that tech is OK
- More change is required in women's attitudes that they can actually do it
- Hands that rock the cradle rule the world
